Learn to play, play to learn!

Ashok, Ayesha and Alpana are 4 years old. They are in preschool which is called a “balwadi”. The children love playing with shapes, colors, letters and pictures. Their teacher is having fun with them too. Do you remember having fun in your preschool when you were small?

Write your own caption!
Do you remember when you learned to read? Suddenly there is so much to read all around you. Letters, words, paragraphs and stories everywhere. Maya and Mohan are trying to read letters for Anita. There are many others like them who are still learning to read. Can you help?

Write your own caption!

ASER (Annual Status of Education Report)
Children in this village are learning. Everyone is helping - mothers, grandmothers, fathers, aunts, uncles and others! Maybe this village should be renamed the “Learning Village.” After all, learning should happen anywhere, everywhere, with anyone and at any time!

Learning together

Write your own caption!

Pratham’s Hamara Gaon program
Here is a group of friends. They are doing a project together. They use a tablet to discover new things and then use the camera to create their own videos. Can you guess what they’re working on?

Write your own caption!
Kamla had to drop out of school because it was too far from her village. But now she has decided to study again so that she can finish her high school exam. Kamla can’t wait to complete her 10th grade! One day, she hopes she can be a teacher. Then she will be able to help others to learn.

Write your own caption!
Can a woman fix a car?
People ask.
“Of course she can!” says Ritu.
“Look at what we are doing” adds Sanjana.
Ritu and Sanjana are learning all about cars.
Soon they will finish their course and go to work in a mechanics shop or garage.

Fixing cars. Going far.

Write your own caption!

Pratham’s Vocational Training Program